

Words from
E.T.A.
Hoffmann

It is nearly always the most improbable
things that really
come to pass.

Boys should not play
with weapons more dangerous than they understand.

Is it not in the most
absolute simplicity
that real genius plies
its pinions the most wonderfully?

